

Grant Loomis is the President & Chief Operating Officer of the Buffalo Niagara Partnership, the area's regional chamber of commerce and privately funded economic development organization. As President & Chief Operating Officer, he leads the chamber's advocacy, industry, and talent development initiatives, as well managing the organization's internal operations.

Loomis will become BNP President & CEO on July 1, 2026, following the retirement of current BNP CEO Dottie Gallagher. Prior to joining the BNP over 11 years ago, Loomis worked in various capacities for federal, state and local elected officials and began his career as a television news reporter.

He is a graduate of Syracuse University and earned an EMBA from the University at Buffalo. Loomis serves on several community and economic development boards in the region including People Inc., Visit Buffalo, and Buffalo Urban Development Corporation (BUDC).
